

ZEPPELIN SUGGESTS AIRSHIP INSTITUTE

German Aeronaut Believes One Would Develop New Ideas in Aerial Navigation.

DRESDEN, July 1.—Count Von Zeppelin, the aeronaut, speaking before the Society of Engineers on the subject of steerable balloons, said the basis of all his endeavors and the foundation of his conviction that the air was navigable had been the observation that the resistance of the air to a moving body decreased in proportion to the increase of the surface going against the air.

It has been affirmed that airships of such great size as he was constructing were impracticable, the count continued, because they could not land on the ground, and must limit their descents to water surfaces. This, he said, was incorrect, as proper landing stages could be constructed on land without much difficulty.

Count Zeppelin proposed the foundation of an institute, adequately equipped to test and develop new ideas in airship navigation. Such an institution should employ engineers to carry on original experiments and maintain a trained staff, and the count said he would gladly contribute to its foundation.

A SUIT AGAINST THE "MATIN"

Senator Humbert's Case Opened—Flight Causes Challenge to Duels.

PARIS, July 1.—The newspapers here have long accounted of the libel suit which Senator Humbert has brought against the "Matin" for involving him in the Rochette affair. Henri Rochette is the proprietor and publisher of this city last March charged with swindling. Attorneys for Senator Humbert began the proceedings by calling many witnesses in an attempt to prove that the campaign conducted by the "Matin" was not disinterested. The chief witness to-day was M. Mouthon, a former editor of the "Matin," who had been published a book in which he exposed the alleged methods of the "Matin" and Maurice Bunau-Varilla, in the Panama, Congo and other affairs.

He testified that he had conducted the "Matin's" campaign against King Leopold, which was called off at a critical moment. This convinced him, he said, that the campaign was for the purpose of forcing King Leopold to capitulate to the Bunau-Varilla brothers, who were interested in the Congo railroad.

In the recess this afternoon M. Baudelot, a lawyer, slapped the face of M. Mouthon, a brother of the present editor of the "Matin." The latter replied by smashing his fist against Baudelot's head. Half a dozen challenges to duels were exchanged.

Rochette says that the enemy of the "Matin" was the fact that he intended to back a rival newspaper. Senator Humbert was at one time secretary of the "Matin."

$300,000,000 FOR DEFENSE

Douma Consents to Vast Expenditure to Guard Possessions.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 1.—The Douma adopted to-night the government bill to authorize expenditure of $46,000,000 for army supplies and material. The appropriation was devoted to the military needs of Trans-Balkania, the construction of fortifications at Vladivostok and capacious barracks at several points. The Douma also obtained tentative approval of its programme for $100,000,000 in 1909-10 for the purpose, together with building the Amur Railroad.

The Douma has given its consent to the total expenditure of more than $300,000,000 to assure the defense of Russia's far Eastern possessions.

TSAR MAY MEET KAISER

Exchange of Visits of Emperors in Finnish Waters Probable.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 1.—A meeting between the two emperors, the Tsar on the Baltic is considered probable, although official quarters deny knowledge of such plan. Emperor Nicholas is expected to resume his cruise in the Finnish Gulf this week, and nothing would be more natural than the two emperors, in the same waters, would arrange a meeting similar to that at Bjorko in 1905. Arrangements then were completed without diplomatic aid, the monarchs simply exchanging telegrams personally. The embassy was apprised of the plan only a few hours before the departure of the Tsar.

LONDON, July 1.—The Foreign Office has refused the request of the Persian government that the political refugees at the British legation in Teheran be handed over to the local authorities, and at the same time has protested with warmth against the action of the Shah in posting troops in the neighborhood of the legation. Sir E. Grey, the Foreign Secretary, said the refugees would not be given up without definite and trustworthy guarantees of their proper treatment.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy

Big heat! Big noise! Big business! The heat is made by nature to drive people to the woods and lakes, and the big business by the boss, who says we must move more goods out of this shop to make room for the heat and the customers. Reminds you of what the Tribune said about not seeing New York for the tall buildings that obstructed the view. Nothing need obstruct your view of what we are moving out of this big stock at simply unheard-of prices this week. It is wonderful. No marking up and down; no fierce rebates; no gum-shoe game of any kind—the boss wouldn't stand for that—just a big 20 per cent discount off the net prices of men's and young men's suits. I am not going to quote you prices on other goods, because you must see the goods and prices together. Then you will realize that on any goods you need it is losing good money to stock up this time, and good money to stock up this time.

a new note to the chamber, with additional demands, and also announced that the United States was supporting the contentions made by Great Britain. The minister promised precise information to-morrow.

BLAMES BEEF TRUST

Clerk Says Meet's High Price Keeps Down Number of Weddings.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Statistician William W. McNamara, of the Marriage License Bureau, blames the Beef Trust for the remarkable decrease in weddings in this city during the past month. This June but 1,515 marriage licenses were issued, a decrease of 219 from the figures of last year. The place for the falling off in the marriages this June upon the high cost of meat, said Statistician McNamara yesterday. "Many cases have come to my observation," he said, "where couples desired to wed, but were frightened by the prices asked for steaks and pork-chops. Unfortunately, all of the lovers are not vegetarians, and as a consequence the exactions of the Beef Trust have spoiled many courtships. Last summer, when prices of meat were lower, the Marriage License Bureau was crowded daily in June. This year the applicants have been few and far between. If the Beef Trust keeps on one side and the hotel on the other, a close up our office and give Dan Cupid a permanent vacation."

WOMAN'S RIDE SAVES TOWN

Makes Wild Five-Mile Dash With Fire-Extinguishers.

MULLICA HILL, N. J., July 1.—Paul Reveler had no more exciting ride than that of Mrs. William Ewan yesterday, when she saved the town of Ewan from flames. When a fire, started by the three-year-old son of Elwood Kier, had burned his father's barn and Radoh's large I. house and was fast eating its way to the schoolhouse on one side and the hotel on the other, a telephone message was sent to Mullica Hill, asking for aid.

There was not a man about the fire house who could leave, and Mrs. Ewan volunteered to take the extinguishers. Ewan, bracing her feet against the dashboard and the time she had never loosened her hold until she had covered the five miles between Mullica Hill and Ewan in just fifteen minutes.

With her horse white with foam, Mrs. Ewan rode up as hopes of setting the fire under control were fast dimming. Over 200 men and boys from the town and surrounding farms were anxious to work the extinguishers, and soon the fire was under control. Mrs. Ewan modestly received the praises from everybody, and it is believed the town was saved by her noble efforts.

CALVIN BOWLED ON SUNDAY

Therefore, Shows May Run on Lord's Day, Declares Court.

NEW YORK, July 1.—John Calvin's indulgence in bowling on Sunday was cited as the basis for a decision by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn to-day. In which it was held that the operation of moving picture shows on Sunday is not a violation of the law. Judge Gaynor, who wrote the decision, quoted as an instance of the innocence of proper amusements on any day, the visit of John Knox to Calvin one Sunday at Geneva, when he discovered the founder of Puritanism playing bowls on the green back of his home.

The matter came up in the case of Henry Hembel, who was convicted in a lower court of running a Sunday show. This verdict was reversed.

BARLEY AND HOPS—a food and a tonic. A trifle of alcohol—an aid to digestion. That's beer. If you get a pure beer—well aged—nothing is better for you.

It is not good advice to say "Don't drink beer." There are many who need it.

Your doctor advises beer. The healthiest peoples of the world drink the most of it.

But it is good advice to say, "Don't drink the wrong beer." Some beer causes biliousness. Schlitz does not.

Schlitz beer is both good and good for you.

Nine people in ten would be better for drinking it. Schlitz is the home beer, because of its absolute purity. It is aged for months, then filtered, then sterilized.

There are no after effects.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling. Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz. To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

Baseball Ballot Editor: Please place the inclosed votes to the credit of "Hot Mon" McKenzie. He has a better record than any other pitcher in the league, both in the number of games won and in fielding. His work on the coaching line is the best yet. Besides being a good player he is a gentleman, which is something some players can't claim. Here's hoping McKenzie gets the money.
